BIG INAUGURAL CROWD EXTENDS WELCOME TO GOV. FULLER WARREN

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 4—Fuller Warren swore the oath of faithful performance as Florida's thirtieth governor: at noon today, with renewed pledges to give the people a state government which would be "neighborly and friendly" and "make the tax dollar do its full duty."

Standing ramrod straight in the presence of the greatest throng ever to see and hear a Florida Governor: inaugurated, Governor Warren repeated his campaign promise to "diligently devote four years of consecrated service to the people of Florida" to the end that government may be "more of a blessing and less of a burden."

When he got to the point in his prepared address where he declared: "You won't have to see anyone to see if you can see me," he paused for a second.

Then he added with confidence, "If you voted right in the election, it will help you if you voted right in the election." It drew a big laugh.

However, he added hastily: "No that was just a little quip. Everyone will be treated as fairly as possible. You're all citizens of Florida."

Rain began midway of retiring Gov. Millard F. Caldwell's farewell address, causing him to trim the length of the report of his stewardship, but only a few spectators deserted the ceremony and these quickly returned as the shower stopped before the new Governor began his speech.

"I hope to make your state government an active and powerful force for promoting the prosperity of all the people of Florida," Governor Warren declared. "In fact for the coming four years the emphasis will be on the State's responsibilities and obligations to its citizens."

"The government of this state belongs to all the people and will be administered for the benefit of all the people, and not just for a favored few."

Governor Warren said he would do his best to put into practice every plank in the platform on which he was elected.

Funeral Services For Samuel Stalls

Funeral services for Samuel Stalls, 59, of Miami, brother of Mrs. M. F. George of Canal Point, were held in Fort Myers Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 4. Mr. Stalls, who was well known in this area, died at a Miami hospital Saturday morning following a brief illness. Burial was at the Fort Myers Cemetery. Mrs. George was accompanied to Fort Myers to attend the services by Mr. George, Mrs. J. H. Bordeaux and Mrs. Grady Boynton.

Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Boe and children spent the weekend with relatives in Sarasota.

HEAD MAN

WARREN

The broadly smiling, handsome, silver-haired man who became governor of Florida at noon Tuesday in Tallahassee climaxed a near-lifetime ambition.

In a success story far beyond the fondest Horatio Alger dream, Fuller Warren rose from the station of an humble, hard-working Calhoun county farm boy to be chief executive of one of the nation's greatest states.

The Warren story, which stands as a shining example to all youngsters in this American democracy, started an unwavering course despite many obstacles after the Warren boy of 12 "was bit by the political bug," as Calhoun county oldtimers recall.

With a gift of speaking which has caused him to be dubbed the "silver tongued orator," Warren won a seat in the state legislature before he reached the voting age and while still a student at the University of Florida.

From then on, he didn't stop running until he was elected to succeed Millard F. Caldwell, who under Florida law, could not seek re-election.

Born In Blountstown
Fuller Warren was born Oct. 3, 1905, in Blountstown, Fla., son of the late Charles R. and Grace F. Warren. He attended public schools of Calhoun and Walton counties and while at the University of Florida was a member of the boxing team in the middle-weight class.

As could be expected, Warren was an active member of the debating team and a reporter and feature writer for the college paper, a cheerleader and a waiter. He was elected to serve from Calhoun county in the 1927 session of legislature and in 1928 was elected as a delegate to the Democratic convention.

Practiced Law
In 1929, he began practicing law in Jacksonville and established a large practice. He served three

New Chairman

LAKE LYTAL
West Palm Beach

Vice Chairman

PAUL RARDIN
Canal Point

LYTAL, RARDIN IN TOP JOBS ON COUNTY BOARD AFTER REORGANIZATION

Lake Lytal, county commissioner from West Palm Beach, and Paul Rardin, commissioner from the Glades, were elected chairman and vice chairman respectively this morning when the board reorganized for the year 1949. Voting was unanimous by all members participating in the meeting which had been delayed from Tuesday in order that three members of the board might attend the inauguration.

Commissioner Lytal today starts his seventh year on the board and has been serving as vice chairman since July first of 1948. At that time he succeeded C. Y. Byrd in the vice chairman's job when Chairman John Prince resigned from the top spot on account of ill health and Byrd was elevated to the chairmanship.

Commissioner Rardin today started his second four-year term on the county board, having been re-elected in the past November election. Rardin was elected four years ago on a better roads program and during the four years just ended he built far more county roads out of the general road and bridge fund than any other commissioner who ever served the Glades district.

Kenneth P. Foster, another West Palm Beach commissioner, was seated today for the first time to replace A. A. Poston of Lake Park who had served on the board for 16 years, ten of which he served as chairman. Mr. Foster is a young real estate man from the Northwood section of West Palm Beach. John Prince, veteran Lake Worth commissioner, was sworn in for another four year term, having won re-election without opposition in the May primaries.

Commissioner C. Y. Byrd of Delray Beach is a hold over and has two years to serve of his present four year term.

Peppers Lost In Holiday Crowd

Sen. Claude Pepper and Mrs. Pepper mislaid their platform tickets and had difficulty getting seats for the inauguration. Secretary of State R. A. Gray interrupted the ceremony to announce the Peppers' predicament. "Amazingly enough," he said, "Pepper wasn't recognized by the guards. He remarked he hadn't thought there was anyone in the State who didn't know the senior Senator. Over the public address system, Gray ordered the guards to admit the Peppers."

Mrs. Vivian Mercer, Mrs. Clara Maurer and Mrs. Sorchie Baird, Canal Point school teachers, attended a meeting of science and music teachers in West Palm Beach Tuesday afternoon.

Dance Nets $312.34 For Children's Home

The New Year's Eve dance given by the Elks club in Pahokee netted $312.34 for the Harry Anna Crippled Children's Home at Umatilla, according to Harold Rosenberg who has been chairman of the committee for the past year. Mr. Rosenberg pointed out that it is the first time in the history of the local lodge that the money for the home has been earned during the year. Heretofore, members have been assessed a certain amount as the lodge's share for the home. More than $800 has been earned during the year for the home, Mr. Rosenberg concluded.

Mr. and Mrs. George Turner of Hendersonville, N. C. are the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stevens, Jr., in Pahokee.

New Attorney General

RICHARD E. (DICK) ERVIN
Tallahassee

Amid all the fanfare of Tallahassee's gala inaugural parade there rode a handsome quiet, unassuming gentleman who takes over one of Florida's important constitutional offices—that of attorney general. The young man who rode just a few cars behind the ever-popular Fuller Warren was unrecognized by many thousands who lined the capital city's streets, but, in this young man those same thousands have elected a man to high office who will prove through the coming years that the voters have not misplaced their trust. "Dick" Ervin will make an outstanding attorney general.

Report Shows Pet Show Was Success

At a meeting of the Pahokee Girl Scout Troop II at the home of Mrs. E. P. Holt Tuesday afternoon Sandra Long reported that the pet show held recently at the First Methodist Church under the sponsorship of the scouts was an outstanding success. One of the highlights of this show was a demonstration on the proper display of show dogs given by Edmund F. Cushman, breeder of pedigree cocker spaniels. Mr. Cushman's cocker spaniels have consistently won blue ribbons at dog shows throughout the country and he was able through experience to give an expert demonstration.

Mildred Boyd was received as a new member of the troop. Plans were discussed for an overnight camping trip. Judy Starling, president, presided. A Charlotte Cate was a visitor.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

(By Russell Kay)

At the invitation of Walter Hays, Orlando, president of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, business and civic leaders representing a group of statewide organizations gathered last week to formulate plans for the observance of "National Citrus Week," January 20-29.

The State Chamber citrus committee will concentrate its effort to promoting the use of citrus fruit within the state in an effort to step up the greater consumption by Floridians themselves, by hotels, restaurants and winter visitors.

Taking a lead in the program to bring citrus fruit forcibly to the attention of visitors and home folks alike, the Orlando Morning Sentinel with the cooperation of a number of enterprising Orange County firms recently opened a Citrus Juice Bar on Orange Avenue where freshly squeezed juices from choice oranges is given away to passers by. Many Orlando merchants are displaying packed boxes in stores and show windows urging the shipment of gift boxes.

A considerable quantity of fruit has been moved from the Orlando area as a result of this effort, and it is the hope of the State Chamber of Commerce that every community in the citrus belt will follow Orange County's example in promoting the use of citrus not only during Citrus Week but throughout the season.

Speaking to the group that gathered in Orlando last week to organize this statewide drive, Harold Cole, executive vice president of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, called attention to the fact that while all interests in Florida are pooling their effort to aid the growers, this alone won't solve the problem and it is imperative that the growers act quickly to help themselves by signing up with the Florida Citrus Mutual as organization of the industry must be brought about before any real permanent relief can be looked for.

Speaking in Washington the same day, Senator Claude Pepper voiced the same warning stating that not much could be done for the sick citrus industry until some way is found to get it together.

While not actually mentioning the Citrus Mutual, Pepper said it was preferable for the growers to get together in one organization to control three-fourths of the crop rather than attempt to set up some agency through legislation.

While Florida's congressional delegation is eager and anxious to do all in its power to help the growers, it is not possible, to do very much until the growers themselves forget their petty differences and get together in one big strong organization.

Concluding his statement relative to the industry made last week Pepper said, "Meanwhile, I think we should wait advice from the industry as to whether it is going to get together voluntarily, or whether it will be necessary to resort to some form of state or federal action to do what is necessary to rescue the industry from its present distress and put it soundly on its feet so the grower and the whole industry can prosper."

Discussing the position of the hotel and restaurant operator at the Orlando conference, R. O. Riddle, secretary of the Florida Hotel Association, stated that while most hotels were anxious to cooperate in some areas the price per box charged hotels for fresh citrus was so high that it could not be given away to guests and he sighted a charge of as high as $7 per box charged hotels in Miami by fruit distributors.

Bill Monroe, secretary of the Florida Association of Retail Grocers, called attention to the fact that independent grocers found it difficult to purchase citrus fruit through regular channels as many distributors did not handle it and supplies available from local growers could not be depended upon from the standpoint of uniformity in quality and quantity.

At the close of the meeting representatives of the various organizations pledged themselves to support the State Chamber of Commerce plan and work out a program for their own organization that would most effectively aid the movement.

Columnist Cites Fuller Warren As Man Who Earned The Job He Holds

By Robert C. Ruark

NEW YORK — The passing of Adm. Ernie King's grey uniforms for naval officers has rejoined an old joke which might stand as a preamble to this piece. It seems a Lieutenant (jg) still wearing his battered khakis hove onto a very taut base, during the late war. He was fresh in from sea.

The poor innocent was immediately chewed out by the first ranking wave officer who saw him. "Don't you know?" she stormed, "that the uniform of the day is gray working clothes, and that it's Admiral King's own pet idea? You got rocks in your head? What's your branch of the service?"

"I'm in the armed guard," the poor fellow muttered. "Ride around with a navy crew on merchant ships..."

"Oh," said the wave, brightly. "That's different. You guys aren't suppose to know anything. But you'll find the bar at the end of the pier promptly at 1630 hours."

As a member of that particular service, which did so much to prolong the war, I have always resented the snide allegation that our boys were sent to sea in order to make room for waves in shore jobs, and the secret departmental hope we'd all get lost until after VJ-day. We were dumb, but willing, and it wasn't our fault if we thought a sextant was a man on janitor duty in church.

It is then, with considerable pride I announce that our service has produced a respectable citizen, who is making notable strides in the civil world and reflecting all sorts of credit on our raggedy-seat fraternity. Gentlemen, I give you the Honorable Fuller Warren, ex-armored guardsman gubernatorial nominee of the state of Florida. I learned about our distinguished colleague in Miami.

The honorable Fuller, who takes office in January, neither drinks nor smokes. Mind that well—yours, Ex-Leutenant Stuppi of Chicago; you Ex-Lieut. Tausig of St. Louis—you all. Suggests of Oregon, Romero of Houston, Iron of Washington, Powell of Richmond. Any one of you mugs governors, yet? Have you done anything to dignify our service? The answer is no.

While you guys were shooting down friendly aircraft, getting sunk by submarines and throwing each other through foreign barroom windows, the Honorable Fuller was making hay. No roistering in Piccadilly for him—no smoke-filled sly groggies in Italy, no raucous cabarets in Casablanca.

While you guys were snoring in your sacks, this boy was canvassing hospitals all over Europe. He was looking up kids from Florida, and then he was writing their folks that Johnny was doing great, and was surely a candidate for the congressional medal. He was bringing cheer to every swabbard, doughfoot and leatherhead he could find, and was impressing their parents that at least one Floridian had their interests at heart.

Ever since he was old enough to get defeated for a job as page boy in the Florida legislature, Fuller Warren has been practicing up to be governor. Now he's gone and done it, and he didn't have to hang around with the heeled in the halls to do it, either. You, Ex-Leutenant Rossiter of Melbourne, Fla.—You're a lawyer. Why ain't you governor of Florida? I'm disgusted with the pack of you.

I hate to lecture, at this late date, but there never was enough seriousness in our service. You remember Iron, of Washington. They told him to keep a day-to-day log, and he came back with just one entry. I quote: "Easter Sunday. Put stuffed rabbit on captain's table."

How do you expect to get anywhere with that kind of leather-headed frivolity? You couldn't get elected dog-catcher with it. I tell you, men, time is growing short. Some of our bunch better achieve something—that isn't connected with gimmick endurance records, or history will sneer at us. Get in there and pitch, because if Warren can be governor, it proves we are basically noble men.

Woman's Society Has Monthly Meet

Mrs. R. F. Hurt presented a special program in observance of Epiphany at the January meeting of the Pahokee First Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service held Monday night at the church.

Sanders, "India," Mrs. H. W. Sanders, "Japan," Mrs. C. A. Major, "Our Educational Institutions in the United States," and Mrs. W. A. Howell, "Our Medical Work in the United States." Mrs. William McClintan played the piano prelude and acted as accompanist for Mrs. Leo Wroten who sang a solo, "My Task." Mrs. John A. Dulany, WSCS president, gave the address of welcome and Mrs. C. T. Howes led in prayer.

Mrs. Hugo Boe gave a comprehensive report on Pahokee WSCS achievements during the past 12 months in comparison with goals set up at the start of the year. Mrs. Dulany appointed Mrs. J. G. Thomas, Jr., chairman of the status of women committee, replacing Mrs. Frank Friend who resigned. Mrs. Dulany announced that the Florida Chain of Missions, in cooperation with the local Council of Church Women, is sending four speakers to the Pahokee-Canal Point area Jan. 26-27.

During the social hour which followed the program Mrs. E. L. Pope and her committee served refreshments of hot chocolate and cookies.

Cypress Gardens Outstanding Spot

WINTER HAVEN — The thrill report of water skiing took over yesterday as football made its exit during many bowl games across the country when twenty-six players on the St. Thomas College Squad, which played in the Cigar Bowl at Tampa, went skimming over the waters of Lake Eloise at Cypress Gardens for their first attempt at this new aquatic sport.

Although many of these gridiron stalwarts from St. Thomas in St. Paul, Minnesota are expert snow skiers, they all voted unanimously that "skiing is fun in the Florida sun."

Not to be outdone by members of the football squad, the reigning Miss America, Miss Bebe Shopp, of Hopkins, Minnesota, lovely sponsor who accompanied the team to Florida, donned a swim suit and successfully completed three runs on the water ski course at Cypress Gardens, while scores of cameras clicked pictures of her and a throng of spectators applauded her success with great enthusiasm.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Cunningham and children, Wayne and Ann Louise, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ramey and daughter, Phyllis, all of Spring Hill, Kan., visited their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Ramey and family here Tuesday.

March Of Dimes Plans Being Made

WEST PALM BEACH — Final Plans for the opening of the annual March of Dimes were drafted here this week with completion of details for the giant air show to be held at International Airport January 15-16 which will launch the county-wide fund drive.

Earl Gardner, county chairman said that local committees have completed arrangements for their annual fund drives and their activities will get underway following the benefit airshow which will include a squadron of National Guard fighter pilots and a troop of professional thrill chasers under the direction of the nationally known stunt flyer, Rex English.

The three hour air show will include such stunting stars as Billy Light, famous aerial hitchhiker, with the Trans-American Flying Tigers Air Show, who rides the wings of an airplane and performs a number of other exhibitions that have never failed to thrill audiences. Among other performers will be Major Art Davis, acrobatic sky-writer; Red "Batman" Grant, who jumps out of a plane at 10,000 feet and soars to earth on man-made wings; Billy Fischer and his tiny Rose-Parakeet plane that weighs only 463 pounds and so small that it will fit into an average living room.

In addition to the professional stunts, a squadron of the latest jet planes, F80's from Jacksonville, under the command of Lt. Col. Bill E. Haviland, will be on hand to round out the thrilling air performance.

The show, kick-off for what is hoped to be the greatest March of Dimes drive ever carried out in Palm Beach County, will get underway each afternoon at 2:30 p. m.

A number of other attractions have been planned, including a souvenir program which will be given away. The program cover has been designed by Zack Mosley, creator of the comic strip, "Smilin' Jack".

Advance ticket sales opened this week and reservations are available in every city in the county, Gardner said.

Wife Seeks Divorce From DuPont Mgr.

TALLAHASSEE — Mrs. Ruth Latham Ball has asked the Leon County Circuit Court to grant her a divorce from Edward Ball, Florida manager of Alfred I. duPont interests, and to allow her alimony in a lump sum. Answering a suit for divorce filed by her husband, Mrs. Ball denied allegations that she had wilfully deserted him, caused him extreme mental cruelty and deceived him in her ability to bear children.

In a counterclaim, she charged Ball had caused her to "suffer great humiliation and intense mental pain and anguish." Mrs. Ball originally filed suit for divorce in 1943, but later requested that it be dismissed. Ball then sought to have the marriage annulled, claiming she had knowingly deceived him in her ability to bear children. The annulment proceedings were dismissed by the Duval County circuit court and the dismissal was affirmed by the Florida Supreme Court.

Palm Beach County's Legislative Delegation Will Spearhead Plan To Have Lawmakers Join Hands In Making Flood Control A State-Wide Project

Floridians may rest assured that the Flood Control problem in our great state will be ably and intelligently presented to the 1949 session of the State Legislature. State Senator John R. Beacham, State Representative John E. Bollinger, both of West Palm Beach, and State Representative B. Elliott, of Pahokee, are wholeheartedly in accord with the flood control movement and have appraised themselves of first-hand information which will be invaluable to all members of the legislature.

The legislative trio was in attendance Tuesday at the gala inauguration in Tallahassee when Calhoun county's favorite son took the oath of office as governor. All three men are warm friends of Florida's new governor.

State Senator Beacham, who will be starting his fifth four-year term in Tallahassee, is and has been an ardent supporter of some plan that would once and for all bring about a solution to the vexing problem of flood control. He is well versed in attempted flood control during the past 20 years in South Florida. At all times during his 16 years in the senate he has worked toward the common goal that some day a plan would be perfected whereby federal and state aid could be coordinated. This plan seems to be in the immediate future.

Messrs. Bollinger and Elliott will go along hand-in-glove with Senator Beacham to inform other members of the legislature of Florida's needs. There are dozens of other members of the legislature who know first-hand what the needs are in the state. However, Messrs. Bollinger and Elliott have been through numerous hurricanes and have seen flood damage at their own doors.

Mr. Elliott, as a resident of the Lake Okeechobee Region, has for many years taken an active part in Red Cross disaster work. He will be able to give the uninitiated in the legislature a vivid first hand story of devastation that follows in the wake of hurricanes. Floods have taken their toll in these parts for many years. Residents of the state are looking to the 1949 legislature to actively come out with some definite and concrete plan for financing the state's share of the cost.

They have one other child, James William, age 4.

Shrine Day Plans For The State Fair

TAMPA — Elaborate plans are being made for Shrine Day at the Florida State Fair, an annual event which this year will be staged on February 10.

Imperial Potentate Galloway Calhoun has been invited to attend the festive ceremonies and it is expected he will be in Tampa for the event.

Plans include a huge street parade with special drills and ceremonies in front of the grandstand at the Florida State Fair grounds that afternoon. Units and marching bodies from Miami, Jacksonville and other points will participate. Visiting Nobles from this state and from the North are cordially invited to attend. Special courtesies will be extended to visiting Shriners and their ladies who register at Egypt Temple, officials announced.

Betty Jo Brooker of Richmond, Va., visited Dr. and Mrs. Wilburn C. Young and family at Port Mayaca through the holidays.

School Head Names Director Instruction

TALLAHASSEE—State School Superintendent Thomas D. Bailey has announced the appointment of Dr. Theodore (Ted) Q. Srygley, Austin, Texas, as Director of Instruction with the State Department of Education.

Dr. Srygley has resigned as Director of Curriculum and Instruction of Austin, Texas public schools to take the Florida position. He fills a vacancy in the state school department created by Joe Hall, who has become director of regular instruction of Dade county.

"Dr. Srygley has extensive knowledge of the educational problems of Florida and of the south gained by his service on many national and southern educational committees," Bailey said in announcing the appointment.

"His experience over the last 25 years in varied public school situations and his extreme interest in the welfare of youth gives him first-hand knowledge of the problems facing our schools and our school children."

"Dr. Srygley is an outstanding educator with a national reputation and I have complete confidence in his ability to assist me in providing the leadership for the further development of the instructional program in Florida," Bailey added.

The new director of instruction becomes the third staff member to be appointed to the department by Bailey. Others are former county school superintendents, Lew Barstow, Palatka, now an assistant in administration and finance, and J. K. (Pat) Chapman, elevated from supervisor of instruction to deputy superintendent.

And Dr. Srygley, along with Chapman and James L. Graham, director of administration and finance, now becomes part of Bailey's four-man "little cabinet" within the state school department.

CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"SACRAMENT" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world on Sunday, January 9.

The Golden Text is: "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me" (Psalms 51:10).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Therefore let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth" (I Corinthians 5:8).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Are all who eat bread and drink wine in memory of Jesus willing truly to drink his cup, take his cross, and leave all for the Christ-principle? . . . If Christ, Truth, has come to us in demonstration, no other commemoration is requisite, for demonstration is Immanuel, or God with us; and if a friend be with us why need we memorials of that friend?" (33:31-2, 5).

Visitor Is Stricken Suddenly On Trip

Charles Harvey McEwen, 78, of Trenton, Tenn., died suddenly from a heart attack in an automobile on Dec. 31 while enroute from Pahokee, where he had been a visitor this fall, to his home in Tennessee. Mr. McEwen came from Tennessee the last of November to visit his brother, G. B. McEwen, in Pahokee. He became ill a few days after arrival and was taken to the Everglades Memorial Hospital shortly before Christmas. After a week in the hospital his health improved to such an extent that it was believed he was able to travel and since he desired to return home his son, Milton McEwen of Humboldt, Tenn., motored to Pahokee to take him home. He appeared to be standing the trip excellently until he was suddenly stricken near Brundidge, Ala.

Cinematic Chatter
By Malcolm Millar

It is always a pleasure to chat with you through this column, but today I am particularly happy to bring you this message.

"The Best Years of Our Lives" is scheduled to be screened at the Prince Theatre Sunday-Monday, in an event worth penning in your book of important dates.

Myrna Loy, Frederick March, Dana Andrews, Teresa Wright, Virginia Mayo and the new dramatic discovery, Cathy O'Donnell are the stars of the piece, with a long list of imposing names in the featured players cast, headed by Hoagy Carmichael and Harold Russell.

March plays a banker, lover of good times and the despair of his lovely wife, Myrna Loy. Dana Andrews is a soda jerk and is married to Virginia Mayo, who goes for the men who are really successful. Teresa Wright and Andrews cook up a romance, that lends tenseness to the drama, and Cathy O'Donnell and young Russell turn in great performances, as do all the featured players in the cast. Well...you've got to see this great drama...you've got to see it.

See you at the movies—Mal.

PRELUDE TO ACCIDENT-

Injury - - - - Death!

Every violation of the center line of safety is a potential prelude to accident.

Crossing into the danger zone can occur at the approach to the top of a hill—on a curve—going into an underpass, or even on the straight highway. That's reckless, dangerous driving! Accident records show that about one half of all fatal traffic accidents result from bad driving habits such as these.

It's your responsibility to yourself, your family and to others who share the road to avoid these "Pass-Pockets" where lurk injury—and death.

Don't let impatient driving tag your conscience with being one of those who contributed to the maiming or death of the hundreds of thousands who will be auto accident victims this year.

You can be a safe driver if you will. It's up to you.
